Dear Dr. Mandel,

Dr. Winnicott is grateful to you for your letter (August 8th) in which you let him know of the various arrangements you are making for his visit. He is at present away on holiday but he asks me to let you know that he is very happy to fit in with what you have arranged. Thank you very much for all the trouble you are taking.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Dr. Van der Heide,

I am grateful to you for your letters and I am replying to the one point, the subject of the lecture for the candidates. Would you agree to a title such as: A Personal View of the Kleinian Contribution to the Theory of Emotional Development at Early Stages. ? This would leave me free to do what I can do, whereas a more formal statement indicating a lecture on the relationship between Klein and Freud would involve me in reading the relevant parts of the literature again. Perhaps because of my temperament, I find I talk better deliberately setting out to give my own view of a matter rather than attempting to present someone else's view. Perhaps all this amounts to the same thing, but I would enjoy giving the students my own slant on these matters.

As to dates, I would prefer 3rd October but I leave this matter entirely in your hands. It all sounds very exciting and I consider that your offer of financial help is very generous.

With good wishes,
Yours sincerely,

D.Winnicott
