

LOS ANGELES PSYCHOANALYTIC SOCIETY AND INSTITUTE

The Los Angeles Psychoanalytic Society and Institute will present a course of six seminars for psychiatric residents on:

Selected Problems in the Application of Psychoanalytic Theory to Psychotherapy

This course will attempt to integrate psychoanalytic concepts into practical formulations which can be utilized in understanding the patient's struggle between himself and the real world.

Particular emphasis will be given to the problem of how to listen to patient material with optimum effectiveness, how to "sift out" the key elements, and how to employ the strategems of interpretive intervention in psychotherapy.

Some familiarity with psychoanalytic principles by the participants will be presumed.
