Dear Doctor Simmel:

Just recently we have revised our "Therapeutic Aims." I am enclosing a sheet which we are appending to our regular order sheet to substitute for the previous way we had tried to indicate to the nurses and therapists what we wanted carried out. We have been using this now a couple of months and are finding it much more helpful to everyone, altho it is still in the nascent form. I would be happy if you would have time to glance through it and make any suggestions that you might have. As previously, the doctor underlines those particular aims which he suggests that the nurses and therapists carry out. Your comments would be especially appreciated.

We think of you often and have been talking a great deal about you in the last few days since your fine, helpful letter came. I am sure that Karl will be writing you in answer to it shortly.

Sincerely yours,

wcm/rc

William C. Menninger, M. D.
