

RICHARD D. LOEWENBERG, M. D.

PLETCHER BLDG., SUITE 6
238 EIGHTEENTH STREET
BAKERSFIELD, CALIFORNIA

PSYCHIATRY AND NEUROLOGY

TELEPHONE 3-1338 -- 4-0525

October 2, 1952

Hanna Fenichel, Ph.D.
582 North Wilcox Avenue
Los Angeles 4, California

Dear Dr. Fenichel:

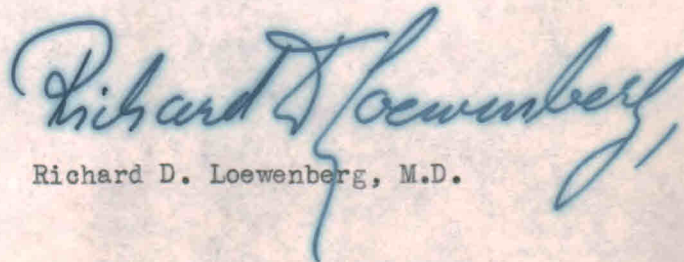

You are the only psychoanalyst under the sun who answers letters, which justifies a blessing on you. Dr. Windholz remains completely mute and I am one of the unfortunate constitution imagining either something is wrong with him, or is the fault with me?

Next question: Our library facilities here are completely disrupted since the earthquakes and what I ask now is only a question. Phyllis Greenacre wrote in the Psychoanalytic Quarterly, 16:177, 1947 on "Vision, Headache, and the Halo"--(the headache is mine only): In case you should be a subscriber and have not yet bound the volume, would it be possible for me to read it and I promise you to return it within a week. I am compulsive like that. . .

In mid-November, I might talk to your study group on "Kant's Self-Observations."

With best regards,

Yours sincerely,

Richard D. Loewenberg, M.D.

RDL:hr