Dear Dr Simmel,

I am writing to you as Editor of the International Journal of Psycho-Analysis to ask whether you could possibly arrange to let me have an Obituary Notice on Fenichel for the journal.

I should be very glad if you would do one yourself, or, if not, arrange for someone else to do it. I suppose a suitable length would be between 1,000 and 2,000 words: but I leave that for your decision. It ought, if possible, to reach me by the beginning of July.

I should feel most grateful for your help in this matter.

Fenichel's death has been a grievous loss to psycho-analysis.

With kindest regards - in which my wife joins me -

Yours sincerely,

James Strachey
