Dear Mrs Fenichel,

Your really lovely food - parcel - including the great Ham - has just arrived & I really must thank you for thinking of us so much. My husband is at the moment away on one of his now almost routine visits to hospital.
But he will be out very soon, & then we will celebrate. I wish I could thank of anything that the English have which Americans don't, to send to you in return; but except for ginger-beer (which is still one of my favorite drinks, but which grown-ups do not as a rule appreciate) there seems to be nothing. So once more, let my send ~~my~~ thanks instead.

Yours sincerely,

Alix Strachey
